Kate Riordan

Chief Programs Officer

Kate Riordan serves as the Chief Program Officer at Epic. In this role Kate is responsible for the strategic design of Epic's programmatic portfolio and the selection, monitoring and overall relationship management with our grantee partners.

Kate comes to Epic with 15 years experience in international children's rights policy and practice work. Prior to joining Epic, Kate served as Head of Programs for the international non-profit, Family for Every Child, overseeing their research, policy and programming efforts with program partners in 30 countries around the world.

Kate has also led efforts with national governments and UN agencies on the adoption and implementation of international child rights frameworks.
